SEAM

CONVERGENCE OF MATERIALITY

Seam explores the space between art and light, a collection of bespoke works that reclaims slow craftsmanship in a fast-paced world.

The seam, a quiet statement, celebrates the convergence of materials and the raw beauty that honours the marks of the maker's hand—a refined union between raw brass and stainless steel, or a superb visible brass weld line.

Seam was conceived from the tension and exploration of merging metals and the unique outcome of each piece—a process of 'anticipated distortion'. Each Seam; a quiet acknowledgment that beauty lies not only in the finished form, but in the process of making—shaped by hand and imbued with soul.
